

SING WARWICK!
Saturday 11th February 2017
St Nicholas' Church, Warwick

CV34 4JD

10.30am - 4.30pm Workshop for Singers and Instrumentalists
Exploring Recent Discoveries of 18th – 19th Century Music from the Warwick County Record Office Library led by Immanuel's Ground,
Warwick's West Gallery Quire.

Cost £10, to include light refreshments and music.

Amongst the Record Office collections there are four Quire Books, part printed, part manuscript, which contain music from the north-eastern part of Warwickshire and its adjoining counties of Northamptonshire and Leicestershire. Much of this music, written for Country Church Quires, has never seen the light of day since the end of the 18th Century, and this day-long workshop will explore psalms, anthems and carols sung in our local churches, including St Nicholas, Warwick. This will include pieces from two rare books found bound within these quire books, one being by William Beasley of Brinklow, and the other by Michael Dobney, born in Leicester but who led a colourful life as Music-Master of the Northampton Militia, and probably also sometime as a Dancing Master, and who lived at various times at Daventry and Welton, Northants., and at Southam, Warwickshire.
