

See seraphic throngs descending 208b

Bundell 19.

Samuel Wakely No.4 of Four New Christmas Hymns ca. 1820. HTI 17389. GG/1/20/1253

S
A
T
[air]
B

See se - ra - phic throngs de - scend - ing, Swift to - wards this ne - ther earth;

5

Hymns sub - lime their way at - tend - ing, Hark theysing the Sa - viour's Birth.

9

Round theglobe let ev' - ry crea - ture Now com-me - mo - rate the morn;

13

S
T
[air]
B

When the Lord in hu - man na - ture Was an help - less in - fant born,

Inst. -----

17

S
When the Lord in hu-man na-ture Was an help-less in-fant born. in - fant born.

A

T
[air]
When the Lord in hu-man na-ture Was an help-less in-fant born. in - fant born.

B

23 Sym.

S
Hark th'eternal world's resounding Loud with sweet seraphic strains;
Millions now the throne surrounding Praise him on the Heavenly plains.

T
[air]

B

27

S
Jesus now our Hearts inspiring Tune our Souls to Melody;
With thy Love our bosoms firing, O unite us Lord to thee;
On the bright celestial regions When life's changing scenes are o'er;
May we with Angelic legions Praise him on the Heav'nly Shore.

A

B

'Twas for us he left the grandeur
Of the Heaven of Heavens above;
Well might Angles lost in wonder
Celebrate his boundless Love;

Hark th'eternal world's resounding
Loud with sweet seraphic strains;
Millions now the throne surrounding
Praise him on the Heavenly plains.

Jesus now our Hearts inspiring
Tune our Souls to Melody;
With thy Love our bosoms firing,
O unite us Lord to thee;

On the bright celestial regions
When life's changing scenes are o'er;
May we with Angelic legions
Praise him on the Heav'nly Shore.

The words, which are quite variable between sources, may be by Wakely.
A variant appears in a printed book of 1825.